32ND ANNIVERSARY REFLECTIONS

The American Henry Ford (of Ford Motor Company) said: "Coming together is the beginning. Keeping together is progress. Working together is success". This captures our church history well.

Coming Together

Pastor Paul Choo, then a successful doctor, ran his group medical practice in Shenton Way. He started Bible study sessions in his clinics. The Holy Spirit drew people. They were mostly professionals working in the area. A core group came together and spearheaded the registration of the church. The root of Gospel Light is the Word of God, faithfully taught through a series of line-by-line Bible studies.

Keeping Together

Ministries bloomed as the people of God remained united. We grew as a spiritual family with the Lord Jesus Christ as the Head. Throughout our history, we have not had serious disunity that led to divisions in the church. I believe this unity is bound by the cord of prayers. The more we pray together, the better we understand the spiritual heartbeat of our brethren and leaders. Even today, there are daily prayer meetings in both our Punggol and 360 Dunearn Road premises.

Working Together

For many years, we were a 100 per cent volunteer-run church. We did not have any paid staff! One of our first ministries was to reach out to the Filipino community. Thereafter, we reached out to Chinese construction workers, Indonesian domestic helpers, and others. Thus our second root is based on the Bible principle that it is more blessed to give (serve) than to receive (Acts 20:35).

But I think the most important milestone was the leadership transition from Pastor Paul to the much younger Pastor Jason Lim in 2007. This was a rare move for a pastor in his prime! The hand of God was evident, as there were no objections from the congregation. Both the local church under Pastor Jason and our overseas missions under Pastor Paul prospered further after the transition.

In the building of both our Dunearn Road and Punggol premises, I saw God's hand move missing pieces to fill needs. Talents and resources came together to ensure the projects were completed on time. Many who provided interest-free loans willingly converted them to love gifts. And the best part was – all of them requested anonymity as they considered that they were giving to the Lord!

Let us continue to be faithful to God, trusting Him as we journey with Him even as the blessed Holy Spirit shapes and moulds us, and makes us fit for the Master's use.
