

INTERVIEW WITH DANIEL YIP

Brother Daniel Yip was confirmed as full-time staff recently. He will be holding the appointment of Youth Ministry Assistant Leader. We asked him some questions about his call to serve full-time:

1) Why did you choose to serve full-time?

My passion has always been to serve the next generation. I greatly enjoy spending time with them, encouraging them in their faith, as well as teaching and guiding them when the opportunity arises.

At the same time, I was not interested in working in the secular world. I was not as motivated as others to succeed in the secular workplace. After a short stint there, I began to be quite sure that this was not how I wanted to spend my life. I started to think that if youth ministry was my passion, then that would be where I would much prefer to spend all my active hours in.

After a period of praying and discerning God's prompting, the call to spend all my working hours with the youth ministry persisted. I decided to obey and honour God, and His leading in this area.

2) What were the major obstacles you faced before choosing this vocation?

My background and education. Through my schooling years I had the opportunity to study at high-ranking schools, all of which propagated the culture and mindset of material success. Walking away from that was indeed difficult as it meant surrendering personal ambition.

3) What are you most excited about in your future as a full-time staff member?

I am excited to be a part of God's work through GLCC. I believe God has amazing things in store for the church and our youth ministry, and it is a privilege to watch it unfold from a front-row seat.

4) What would you say to others considering full-time ministry?

Be bold in taking steps of faith. It has been challenging yet rewarding and I trust that God will never short-change us.

GENERAL NOTICES

• COMMUNITY ENGAGEMENT@ GOSPEL LIGHT

Many churches begin well, they make disciples and they rescue souls that are perishing. But tragedy happens when a church is content to simply be 'IN' the community, rather than a church "FOR" the community? Gospel Light's community platforms exist for us to represent Jesus to the unchurched.

Find out what platforms are available or contact us today to find our more. gospellight.sg > connect > community engagement
