

CARING OVER VIDEO IN DISCIPLESHIP (COVID)

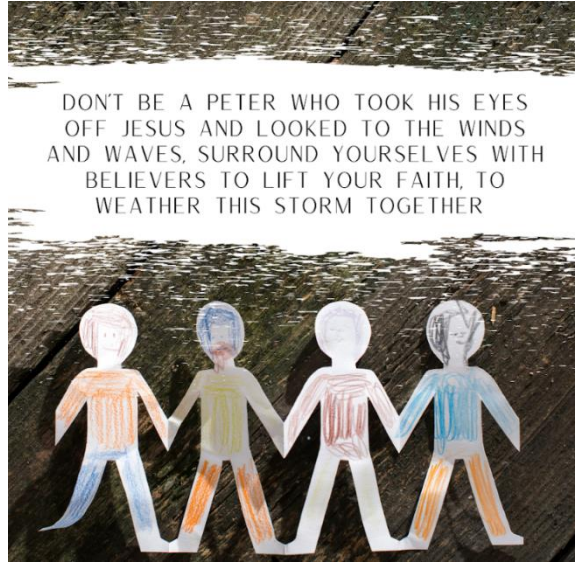

With news portals and social media feeds jammed with messages on the coronavirus pandemic, it is easy to focus on the figures and take our eyes off God. In doing so, we begin to worry about our health, our families, our jobs and the future. To avoid being like Peter, who took his eyes off Jesus amidst the strong winds and began to sink into the sea (Matt 14:28-31), we need to surround ourselves with fellow believers to lift our faith and disciple one another in our Christian walk, to weather this storm.

Thanks to technology, our Care Group (CG) has continued to meet via video conferencing, supporting each other in prayer and encouraging one another to stay anchored in God's Word. After one CG meeting, a member texted, "Thanks everyone for an uplifting CG session filled with positivity and God-centredness! Helped me realign my focus back on God."

Apart from growing together in faith, many members are also stepping up to serve God's people and Punggol residents. It is exciting to see God's hand at work! Recognising the urgency of the situation, we met the community's needs by contributing funds and volunteering to install hand sanitisers in lifts around Punggol. Other CG members readily lent their time and talent to assist in Pastor Paul Choo's video series, "The Beautiful Book". With most people staying home during the circuit breaker, some members used the period as an opportunity to share the Gospel online. Praise God for the ability to bless others amidst the storm!

Increasingly, this crisis is demonstrating how all our wisdom and planning is foolishness to God (1 Cor 3:19). How much we need to submit to Him every aspect of our lives, for Him to make our paths straight (Prov 3:6)! Despite the social distancing measures, let us not give up meeting together and encouraging one another – all the more as we see the Day approaching (Heb 10:25).

Care Group Leader

DON'T BE A PETER WHO TOOK HIS EYES OFF JESUS AND LOOKED TO THE WINDS AND WAVES. SURROUND YOURSELVES WITH BELIEVERS TO LIFT YOUR FAITH, TO WEATHER THIS STORM TOGETHER

John urges his readers to test the spirits to determine their true identity (v. 1), gives them the criterion for testing the spirits (vv. 2-3), and sets forth the criterion for identifying the true character of the human speakers (vv. 4-6). Class starts at 8pm SHARP.
