4 QUESTIONS WITH OUR VARSITY SHEPHERD

If 2020 was “The New Normal”, 2021 would be something along the lines of “2020, but with erratic and constant changes”. Each time we think that we have settled into something stable, it seems like a new COVID-19 cluster forms, new measures are imposed to curb the spread of the virus, and we go back to square one.

What have you learned about your ministry?

The role of the Care Group (CG) leader has never been so crucial, and we have got to invest in and care for them. Weekly, and sometimes daily, they show care, prepare CG materials, think of activities over Zoom, and come up with different ways to engage members. They have to shoulder the bulk of the “care” load in church, yet are the ones most prone to burnout and discouragement. To all the CG leaders reading this, I truly think the work you put in is amazing. We thank God for your labour behind the scenes and screens.

What have you learned about God?

Psalm 23 has been a text that I have clung to. The Lord is my shepherd, I shall not want. It’s been the truth that has guided and comforted my heart through the lows (somehow there were a lot this year). I remember Auntie Mei Wee making me memorise this in Sunday school, but it hit home this year. God made this so real to (my wife) Belle and I in our search for a flat to rent. This caused a bit of anxiety and fear, but God provided for us beyond our wildest imaginations. And even in discouragement through ministry work, it is a reminder that I have a shepherd who knows my every need and provides abundantly.

What have you learned about leadership?

Psalm 23 also spills over into Christian leadership. I realised that my one-on-one coffee catch-ups with the people I serve with are vital. Just as my shepherd knows my needs, I need to listen to the needs of people I shepherd, and tend to them lovingly as well. Shepherding is hard work, as my responsibility involves working hard at the Bible text I’m sharing and also creating space to listen, care and show love to the flock.

What have you learned about yourself?

This year, I’ve developed a greater appreciation about how God has given me an amazing wife in Belle. She has sacrificed much, cheered me on in good seasons, as well as prayed and comforted me in difficult ones.

“ Just as my shepherd knows my needs, I need to listen to the needs of people I shepherd, and tend to them lovingly as well. ”

• EXPOSITORY BIBLE STUDY – BOOK OF MARK

This Tuesday, 21 September, we will be studying two passages from the Gospel of Mark. The first passage, Mark 12:13-17, we look at Jesus answering a question from the Pharisees and the Herodians on whether the Jews should be paying taxes to Caesar. In the second passage, Mark 12:18-27, we study how Jesus responded to the questioning by the Sadducees about the resurrection. Do come and join us for Bible Study at 8pm by clicking on the following link:
