YOUTH MINISTRY REFLECTIONS

We started this year thankful that on-site services were permitted since late last year, and we could thus resume worshipping in church together as a ministry. However, the first half of the year was still challenging in terms of fellowship. Youth love to hang out in big groups, but COVID-19 group size limitations meant that organizing Care Groups and other activities was challenging.

“ God has since opened many doors for the ministry to engage meaningfully with church youth, as well as unchurched youth from the Punggol community. ”

We were thus overjoyed when the group size limits were lifted. God has since opened many doors for the ministry to engage meaningfully with church youth, as well as unchurched youth from the Punggol community. One of the opportunities was holding a Youth Retreat in June, during which we explored the topic of Creation Science. This helped the youth see the reality and awesomeness of God. Many new friendships were forged, questions answered, and some youth expressed a desire to know God in a deeper way.

This is a testimony from one of the youth:

Another opportunity God granted was the reopening of Club39 (an outreach platform for the unchurched youth in the community). We are seeing some old Club39 members returning after more than two years, and they are bringing new friends in. They are souls in need of the gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ, and each one of them matters to God! We are grateful for the chance to reach out and be a blessing to youth facing all kinds of struggles. They range from those whose families are going through divorce, to some battling depression, and others with complex issues in which the police are involved. We are praying for more volunteers who have a heart for these unchurched youth, who will not judge them but love them to the cross, pointing them to Jesus who is able to change them from the inside out.

Finally, we are very excited to be planning our annual year-end youth camp again. Many youth missed out on such experiences, as even school camps were cancelled during the past two years. Our camps are an excellent platform for the gospel to be shared to newcomers, and for church youth to step up to serve. We covet your prayers for a successful camp in which many will accept and follow Jesus!
