INTO A LIFE-CHANGING
RELATIONSHIP WITH JESUS CHRIST.

Singapore Busy. Gospel Ready.

Article by Pastor Yu Fei
Youth Pastor

In Singapore, life is busy. Our schedules are full with work, family, ministry, and responsibilities. Many of us are not against evangelism — we just feel we do not have time, or we do not know how to do it naturally. So sharing the gospel slowly becomes something we leave to pastors, missionaries, or people who are more outgoing.

But the Bible shows that witnessing is not only for a few special people. It is part of the normal Christian life. Jesus told all His followers to “make disciples of all nations” (Matthew 28:19). That command was not only for leaders. It is for every believer.

We also remember that God is sovereign in salvation. We cannot convert anyone. Only God can change a heart. Our responsibility is not to produce results, but to be faithful. As Paul says, “I planted, Apollos watered, but God gave the growth” (1 Corinthians 3:6).

This truth is very freeing. It means we do not need to pressure ourselves to be impressive. We simply need to speak faithfully when God gives opportunity.

So what does this look like in everyday Singapore life?

First, start with prayer.

Pray for specific people — colleagues, relatives, neighbours, school friends. Ask God to open doors and give you love for them. Very often, evangelism begins not with speaking, but with caring.

Second, build real relationships.

In Singapore, many friendships revolve around food. Lunch breaks, kopi sessions, hawker centre meals, or inviting someone to your home — these are natural ways to spend time together. We do not need special programmes. Ordinary friendship can become the pathway for gospel conversations.

Third, speak about your faith in a normal way.

When someone asks about your weekend, you can mention church. When you go through difficulties, you can share how God helps you. This is not preaching — it is simply letting people see that Christ is part of your life.

Fourth, be ready to explain the gospel simply.

The good news of Jesus Christ dying and rising, to save us from our sins, in order to reconcile sinful man to the Holy God. You do not need complicated words — just clarity and sincerity.

Many Christians in Singapore also struggle with fear. We live in a multi-religious society, and we do not want to offend others or damage relationships. We may fear awkwardness, rejection, or being misunderstood. These concerns are real. But sharing the gospel does not mean being pushy or disrespectful. We can speak with gentleness, humility, and love. Even when people disagree, they can still see that we care for them.

Fifth, trust God with the results.

Singapore is very results-driven, but spiritual growth is not something we can control. Some people may not respond immediately. Some may take years. Some may reject the message. But God uses His Word in ways we cannot see.

“You do not need a stage to fulfil the Great Commission. You just need a willing heart, a prayerful spirit, and trust in the God who saves.”

Finally, remember that witnessing flows from love for Christ.

When Jesus is precious to us, speaking about Him becomes more natural. We talk about what matters to us.

A faithful Christian life cannot remain completely silent about the Saviour. We may not all be bold or eloquent, but God has placed each of us in families, workplaces, schools, and neighbourhoods for a reason. You do not need a stage to fulfil the Great Commission. You just need a willing heart, a prayerful spirit, and trust in the God who saves.

Let us ask the Lord to help us make room in our busy lives for the people around us who do not yet know Him.
