INTO A LIFE-CHANGING
RELATIONSHIP WITH JESUS CHRIST.

An Acts Church for Today

Article by Jason Lim
Senior Pastor

A healthy church must think about direction. What we will prioritise, what we will pursue, what kind of people we hope to become. It's easy for any church to slip into routine: measuring "health" by Sunday services, attendance, or packed calendars. But that's not the Bible's goal for the church.

The goal of the church is not merely to gather, grow bigger, or do more activities. The goal is to become the kind of people God wants us to be.

That's why a clear vision matters. And for us, the vision is simple: an “Acts Church for Today.” Not a church that merely “acts,” but a church shaped by the patterns we see in the book of Acts: Christ-exalting, Spirit-empowered, Scripture-anchored, prayerful, sacrificial, evangelistic, and steadfast through suffering.

1. Centred on Our Savior

Everything begins and stays with Jesus. An Acts church treasures Christ above all: finding joy, identity, and confidence in Him. We also depend on His strength, not our willpower; the Christian life is lived by abiding, not striving in our own strength. And because Christ is precious, Christ is proclaimed – not only from the pulpit, but in every ministry, home, and conversation.

“Acts shows a church directed and empowered by the Spirit. To be “filled” is to yield control.”

2. Filled with the Spirit

Acts shows a church directed and empowered by the Spirit. To be “filled” is to yield control. An exchanged life where the Spirit sits on the throne of the heart. This is not a mystical “zap,” but a steady life shaped by obedience to God’s Word, and dependence on His Spirit in us.

3. Rooted in the Scriptures

An Acts church is built on God’s sure Word. It is committed to declaration: faithful teaching that remains central even when other needs feel urgent. It practices discernment: letting Scripture, not bias or tradition, be the final authority. And it shows dedication: not merely hearing the Word, but persevering to understand and obey it.

4. Faithful in Supplication

The early church prayed—and kept praying. An Acts church treats prayer as essential, not optional: gathering consistently, not only when convenient. It prays with confidence because its prayers aim at God’s purposes—His kingdom,

His gospel, His glory. And it prays with endurance, trusting God's wisdom even when outcomes differ from expectations.

5. Genuine in Sacrifice

In Acts, generosity wasn't pressured; it was produced by the gospel. An Acts church gives because it has first received mercy in Christ. It looks around and sees the church as family—brothers and sisters, not strangers. And it looks forward in faith, trusting God's promised reward and remembering it is more blessed to give than to receive.

6. Effective in Soul-winning

Acts 1:8 captures the church's mission: to be witnesses of Jesus. An Acts church keeps the gospel outward-facing—even under pressure. It relies on the Spirit's power for boldness and clarity. And it follows God's plan: the good news moves from “near” to “far,” shining brightly at home while reaching to the ends of the earth.

7. Joyful in Suffering

The world chases comfort, but God's people should not be surprised by hardship. Acts shows suffering as a real part of faithful discipleship. Yet the early church responded in a shocking way: with joy, courage, and perseverance. They believed God wastes nothing—not even pain—and that the gospel is worth every cost.

Conclusion

An “Acts Church for Today” isn't defined by busyness, branding, or budgets. It is defined by spiritual health. This is not a human achievement but a God-worked reality. So let us ask God to shape Gospel Light into this kind of church – one that looks unmistakably like Jesus, for the glory of His name.
