INTO A LIFE-CHANGING
RELATIONSHIP WITH JESUS CHRIST.

Undone Before God

Article by Seethor Chee Keen
Pastor (Chinese)

Isaiah 6 gives us one of the clearest pictures in Scripture of what happens when a sinner encounters the holiness of God. The chapter opens during a time of uncertainty: “In the year that King Uzziah died, I saw the Lord.” An earthly king had passed from the scene, but Isaiah was given a vision of the One who still ruled over all things. He saw the Lord seated on His throne, “high and lifted up,” while the seraphim around Him cried, “Holy, holy, holy is the LORD of hosts; the whole earth is full of his glory!”

Holy, Holy Holy

God's holiness speaks of His absolute purity, majesty, and uniqueness. He is completely set apart from all that is sinful, flawed, and changing. In a world where circumstances shift and human leaders come and go, Isaiah is reminded that God remains sovereign, glorious, and unchanging. One of our greatest needs as Christians is not merely to know more about God, but to see Him more clearly. A fresh vision of God reshapes how we see everything else.

Holiness Exposes Our Sin

When Isaiah sees the holiness of God, he immediately sees himself differently. His response is not admiration but confession: "Woe is me! For I am lost; for I am a man of unclean lips." Standing in the light of God's holiness, Isaiah becomes deeply aware of his own sinfulness. He no longer measures himself against other people. He sees himself as he truly is before God.

“Yet God reveals our sin not to drive us a way from Him, but to draw us to the grace we desperately need.”

This remains true for us today. The closer we draw to God, the more conscious we become of our need for His mercy. Holiness begins with honesty. Before God, there is no room for pretense, self-justification, or comparison with others. Yet God reveals our sin not to drive us away from Him, but to draw us to the grace we desperately need.

The Holy God Who Cleanses

The message of Isaiah 6 is therefore not one of despair but of hope. God does not expose Isaiah's sin in order to leave him condemned. A seraph takes a burning coal from the altar, touches Isaiah's lips, and declares, “Your guilt is taken away, and your sin atoned for.” The God whose holiness reveals sin is also the God who provides cleansing for sinners.

For Christians, this points us to Jesus Christ. What Isaiah experienced symbolically, Christ accomplishes fully through His death and resurrection. Our forgiveness is not something we earn through greater effort or better performance. It is a gift of grace, received through faith in the One who has made atonement for our sins.

Cleansed and Sent

Only after Isaiah is cleansed does he hear the Lord's call: "Whom shall I send, and who will go for us?" His answer comes willingly: "Here I am! Send me." Grace leads to gratitude, and gratitude leads to obedience. True holiness is not merely about becoming better people. It is about seeing God rightly, confessing our sin honestly, resting in His grace fully, and responding to His call gladly. The more we behold the holy God who cleanses sinners, the more ready we will be to say, with Isaiah, "Here I am! Send me."

CHURCH HAPPENINGS

WOMEN'S MINISTRY - OUR BODIES' BEST KEPT SECRET

Discover your lymphatic system and why it matters to everyday health.

We hear plenty about heart health and blood circulation, but much less about another remarkable network quietly detoxifying our bodies — the lymphatic system.

Our lymphatic system works for us every day — so how can we work with it?

Join Yifen, Occupational Therapist and Certified Lymphedema Therapist, for an easy-to-understand health talk exploring how this often-overlooked system helps maintain fluid balance, reduce swelling, support immune function and keep our tissues healthy. We'll also discover its fascinating connection with our digestive system.
